Jerico is Canadian Made Socially Conscious Apparel

We belabour the point because our decision to remain a domestic manufacturer is a deliberate choice to support the local economy, provide a safe working environment and make quality garments that stand the test of time.

Jerico was founded in 1987 by two brothers and two sisters. It was a family business that grew in leaps and bounds as the textile industry flourished in Canada. Knitting machines ran 24 hours a day, dyeing operations ran consecutive shifts and sewing had a tough time keeping up with demand. These were glorious days for all involved in the apparel business. However, in 2001, the quota on imports was lifted and the markets were flooded with low cost imports. Overnight Canadian manufacturers came under overwhelming pressure to drop prices and outsource production. Jerico decided otherwise. We believed firmly in the quality of Canadian labour and the necessity for humanity in employment. Jerico's success was not going to be based on the exploitation of foreign labour. The conditions of foreign factories are deplorable and the wages of their employees are dreadful. We conduct all our manufacturing in bright and airy premises with fair wages and complete medical and dental coverage. Our employees are part of the family business and partners in our success - and we like to treat them accordingly.

Keeping our production in Canada has not been easy. Competition is plentiful and the pressures to outsource are manifold. But we believe in the ethics of fair labour and the quality of our product. 100% Canadian and sweatshop free, Jerico is proud to continuously offer authentic Canadian apparel.

Jerico keeps environmental concerns at the forefront of its dyeing practices. We uphold stringent standards that control both what is applied to our fabrics and what is discharged from our facilities. We have an in-house treatment system which ensures effluents are treatable by our municipal sanitary authority, we only use non-toxic dyes and chemicals, we use steam from a third party “green” supplier of thermal energy and we reclaim heat and other by-products in the dyeing process to reduce emissions. Some may say our efforts to preserve the environment are excessive, and we would agree with them.

Why our fabrics feel better?

Our fabrics are soft, smooth and ideal for screenprinting and embellishment. We achieve this superior hand by using combed ring spun yarn. Combing is a process used to separate the longer, thinner fibers from the shorter, more coarse fibers. The fibers selected using this process are stronger and more uniform. Once the fibers are separated, they are then ring spun. Ring spun yarn is tightly twisted to ensure the resultant fabric is softer and smoother to the touch.

All of Jerico's fabrics are proudly knitted and dyed in Canada. We do so to ensure the highest quality, minimize the carbon footprint of our production process and maintain the highest environmental standards. From spools of yarn to finished goods, the transit of materials is reduced to a few miles rather than an expedition across international borders. Our consolidation of production allows us to minimize and mitigate the environmental impact of every process in the supply chain.

Jerico's fabrics comply with Oeko-Tex Standards ensuring the fabric is manufactured in an innocuous setting and the materials are of no detriment to the environment.

Jerico carries a distinguished collection of sweatshirts we feel no one should go without. Our Artisan Melange fleece is inspired by Japanese loopwheel fabric, an exceptional fleece coveted for its intricate texture, flaws and inconsistencies. Loopwheel fabric is manually knitted on a machine that weaves 24 loops a minute. A process slow enough you can track the movement with your eyes. Experienced craftsmen have to attend to the machine constantly ensuring the yarns weave in perfect harmony without putting undue tension on the threads. The end result creates fabric that feels as if air had been incorporated into it. Jerico's Artisan Melange is a recreation of this vintage fabric. With contemporary styles and updated fits, this collection of unique, authentic pieces, will be a mainstay in your closet for years.

ARTISAN MELANGE CREWNECK SWEATSHIRT

The crewneck sweatshirt that had reached ubiquity in the early 90s is back in fashion. Now being showcased on runways in Milan, New York and Paris, the crewneck sweatshirt in its original grey is becoming this year's fashion statement. No longer a garment of utility, Jerico has recreated the original sweatshirt in artisan melange. A fleece inspired by Japanese loopwheel fabric and sought after for its intricate texture, flaws and inconsistencies. Available in marled white and marled black. Canadian Made.

Naturally sustainable bamboo is soft, light and translucent making it the next generation in textile fibres. Bamboo is increasingly being embraced by fashion houses and retailers whose impetus is towards sheer and pliable fabrics. Bamboo's inherent characteristics make it naturally moisture wicking and anti-bacterial without the need for chemical treatments. This allows the fabric to be washed a multitude of times without negating its functional properties. Bamboo's most esteemed characteristic is its natural sustainability. It requires no fertilizers or pesticides for its cultivation and grows rapidly and profusely without depleting the soil. As an added benefit, bamboo's intrinsic anti-bacterial qualities repel odours and toxins.

THREE-END BAMBOO FLEECE

next generation fleece. luxuriously soft.

Jerico introduces a new class of fleece that is unparalleled in the industry: Three-End Bamboo Fleece. Most sweatshirts offered by low-cost importers are constructed from two yarns. Our new Bamboo Fleece is ‘three end’ fleece - the fabric is knit with a loop, a face and a tie yarn. The extra tie yarn increases the fabric’s durability and adds a certain loft that confers an almost soft spongy finish. In addition to adding an extra yarn, the yarn itself is made from a specially crafted blend of bamboo and organic cotton. This fabric feels like a premium cashmere blend with having the added benefit of being machine washable. One touch and you’ll quickly feel the difference.

three-end bamboo fleece HOODED SWEATSHIRT

The utility of a pouch pocket and the warmth of a well proportioned hood makes the hooded sweatshirt a must for our sub-temperate climate. Most Canadians own multiple hooded sweatshirts as they become more regularly utilized through the cooler months. One touch of this NEW Three-End Bamboo Fleece Hooded Sweatshirt and this will be the only hoodie you ever wear. Its soft midweight blend confers softness and warmth and the intrinsic moisture wicking properties make it breathable and comfortable for any occasion. Set-in Sleeves. Double Ply Hood. White Knitted Drawstring.

BAMBOO TRI-BLEND

vintage t-shirts in eco-friendly fashion

Jerico introduces the next generation in eco-friendly fabrics. Tried and true tri-blend has been re-invented to be softer and more naturally sustainable. Vintage appeal and concern for the environment find solace in this stylish bamboo fabrication. Bamboo Tri-Blend is an innovative blend of bamboo, cotton and polyester. The bamboo confers softness, the cotton offers drape and the polyester ensures the garment retains shape and integrity. Blended in perfect harmony, Jerico's Bamboo Tri-Blend offers a unique heather finish of vintage appeal.

BAMBOO STRETCH

bamboo and spandex blended in perfect harmony

With bamboo stretch we sought to create a fabric that was soft and supple but yet retained its shape and memory after extensive wear. We achieved this by blending bamboo, organic cotton and spandex. The bamboo confers the softness that is enviable. The organic cotton gives the fabric body to withstand everyday wear. The spandex delivers four way stretch that enables movement in any direction. Overall, you have fabric that feels amazing against the skin and that can be used in any application. And with the moisture wicking and anti-bacterial properties of the bamboo, we really mean any application.

40 Singles Explained:

The thread count measures the number of threads woven together in a square inch. A higher number means a finer thread, which results in a tighter weave and a softer and thinner t-shirt. A standard import t-shirt has a thread count of approximately 20. Jerico's Premium Ring Spun Cotton t-shirt has a thread count of 40, making it the softest t-shirt in the industry.

the FINE JERSEY t-shirt / Combed Ring Spun 50/50 Jersey - Comfort and durability in perfect harmony.

Comprised of our famous 50/50 Poly-Cotton blend, Jerico's fine jersey t-shirt stands distinct from other poly-cotton t-shirts in the industry. Ours is made with combed ring spun cotton, giving it a soft and smooth finish. The blending of fine polyester confers the shape and integrity to withstand a multitude of washes and remain vibrant for years to come. It's not uncommon to see a Jerico 50/50 t-shirt worn years after purchase. It is the be-all and end-all of soft, durable tees - and with over 20 colour options, there's never a dull moment.
